

Econ 362 Hanes, Fall 2025 Information for students adding the class

- 1) No phones or laptops can be used in class. Put them in your backpack. Take notes in a notebook.
- 2) When I assign a problem set or make any announcement for the class, I will write that information in the upper left-hand corner of the blackboard. I do not use email or Brightspace to make announcements. You have to come to class.
- 3) I use my own website rather than Brightspace. All material for this class, other than the textbook, is on my website here:

https://bingweb.binghamton.edu/~chanes/teaching/econ362/econ_362.html

- 4) Look at the syllabus, make sure you understand it.
- 5) Print out the following documents (you get free printing in the library) and hang onto them.

Preliminary outline

Problem sets other than Excel spreadsheet problem sets

There will be other things I will tell you to print out over the course of the semester.

- 6) You hand in problem sets by taking the right pages from Problem sets other than Excel spreadsheet problem sets, writing the answers on those pages, stapling them together, writing your name at the top of the front page, and put the stapled-together pages on the table in the back of the classroom.

One problem set was due on August 21: First problem set on graphing. To hand this in, scan it as a pdf and email it to the TA for your assigned section.
