Academic Research & Field Experience

- 2012 -2016: Memory, Identity, and Gender: A Social History of Nineteenth Century Alsatian Immigration to Texas. Historical archaeology, sociocultural anthropology, and history of Alsatian immigrant communities in central Texas.
1998 – 2013: Chaco Landscape Studies (Principal Investigator).
June 2011 – May 2013: Dating Assessment of Kin Bineola Mounds, Chaco Culture National Historical Park, New Mexico. In-field ceramic and lithic analysis conducted with 2 Binghamton graduate students and one Navajo tribal member June 5 – 17, 2011. Analysis and writeup to continue through May 2013. NPS Permit # CHCU-11-03.
July 2010 – May 2012: Visibility at Kin Klizhin. Site relocation and GIS viewshed analysis of habitations, Chacoan architecture, shrines and herraduras in the Kin Klizhin outlier community and Chaco area, northwest New Mexico.
April 2006 – November 2007: Intervisibility across the Chacoan World. GIS viewshed analyses among shrines, towers, and outliers across northern New Mexico. Assessing line-of-sight connections and participation in Chacoan ideology and ritual.
June – July 2002, 2003, 2005: Approaches to Chaco. Walked and videotaped the major routes of access into Chaco Canyon and Chacoan buildings, as well as lines of sight and visibility among 30 Early and Classic Bonito outlier great houses in northwest New Mexico, to explore relationships

- between spatial experience, the constructed and natural landscape, and a Chacoan worldview.
- June 1998:* Roads to Ruins. Demonstrated the existence of a “road through time” between Red Willow Chacoan great house and Los Rayos great kiva by mapping and ceramic dating both features.
- 2002 – 2006: Landscapes on the Post-Chacoan Periphery. Investigated tower complexes and social memory on the post-Chacoan, Pueblo III period landscape on Canyons of the Ancients National Monument, southwest Colorado. Instructed Colorado College field school students in survey, mapping, and in-field artifact analysis at approximately 50 sites over 200 acres of terrain.
- September - October 2002:* Painted Hand Tower, Hovenweep Canyon. September - October 2003, September – October 2005: Lightning Tree Tower, Burro Point.
- 1995 - 2000: Andrews Community Archaeological Research Project.
- June 1999, June 2000:* (Principal Investigator and Project Director). Directed field school students in expanded survey coverage and in-field artifact analysis in the Andrews community, a Chaco outlier located in the southern San Juan Basin, New Mexico. (California State University, Fullerton).
- 1995-1998:* Andrews Community Archaeological Mapping Project (R. Gwinn Vivian, Principal Investigator; Ruth Van Dyke, Project Director). Directed total station mapping and in-field artifact analysis at 44 sites in the Andrews community during July and August 1995. Generated AutoCAD and Surfer maps from the data. Analyzed maps and spatial data to address questions about community organization and relationship with Chacoan polity. (Dissertation research, University of Arizona, Tucson).
- 1993: Department of Anthropology, University of Arizona, Tucson.
- Spring and fall semesters:* Research Assistant to Robert McC. Netting, investigating organization of agricultural labor and production among the Kofyar of Nigeria.
- June-July 1993:* Teaching Assistant at the University of Arizona Archaeological Field School at Silver Creek, directing excavation at the Pueblo III site of Pottery Hill. Barbara J. Mills, Director.
- July 1991: American Academy at Rome and the British School at Rome (crew member). Excavation of Roman and medieval components of Cosa, near Orbetello, on the Mediterranean coast of Italy. Lisa Fentress, Project Director.
- 1988 – 1989: Arizona State Museum, University of Arizona, Tucson.
- February - April 1989:* Marana Platform Mound Project. Excavation of Classic period Hohokam adobe house compounds in the Marana Platform Mound community, Marana, Arizona. Paul Fish, Suzanne Fish, and John Madsen, Directors.
- June - August 1988:* Homol’ovi Research Project. Excavation of the great kiva and plaza features at Homol’ovi III, a Pueblo IV Ancestral Hopi site, Winslow, Arizona. E. Charles Adams, Director.
- 1985 – 1986: Department of Anthropology, University of Texas at Austin.
- Spring & Summer 1986:* WS Ranch Site Project. Excavated WS-5, a small Mogollon pueblo south of the WS Ranch Site near Alma, New Mexico. Reconstructed and conserved ceramic vessels, and analyzed, cleaned, and conserved faunal remains. James A Neely, Director.
- Summer 1985:* WS Ranch Site Project. Field school student excavating great kiva, pueblo rooms, and inhumation burials at the WS Ranch Site near Alma, New Mexico. Survey in Devil's Park, Gila National Forest, near Reserve, New Mexico. James A. Neely, Director.
- Spring 1985:* Student excavation at the Page Site and the Long Hog Hollow site, two Archaic burned rock midden sites in Travis County, Texas. E. Mott Davis, Professor.
